CULTURAL & CREATIVE RESIDENCY

London & International

FACE-TO-FACE & ONLINE TUTORING

International travel is getting harder.

Language learning is not getting easier.

Learners need native speakers to help prepare their visit and provide follow-up sessions afterwards.

Our unique concept has two elements:

A warm welcome to our London Residency,
with the option of lessons on site,
and Online Tuition before and after.

You tell us. Just one, or both.

Together we devise your own programme.

Individuals or groups both welcome!

Scenario's Cultural & Creative Residency is designed to welcome students, artists, musicians, writers, intellectuals and enquiring travellers in an atmosphere of friendship and mutual self-discovery, either individually or in groups.

Founded in 2005 Scenario is a family business operating from a home office in smart West London. We make films and music; we publish fiction. We enjoy sharing conversation and discussion. We offer English tuition and career mentoring.

Our base is ideally situated in a leafy, protective enclave close to Acton Town tube station, perfect for Central London and Heathrow Airport.

The house, named Arundel, was built in 1904, a part of historic London and a personal museum containing family archives and memorabilia of many generations, offering an unusual insight into the history of this country.

Besides its many works of art, Arundel boasts a well-stocked Library of literary and popular classics, perfect for researchers and readers needing quiet study space.

The Music Room with piano, violin and cello, is available to visiting musicians along with sheet music by many of the great composers. Our fine collection of catalogues from the world's museums and art galleries is a valuable resource for visual artists and historians.

On Arundel's full-screen Home Cinema we offer assisted viewing from our extensive collection of British and International Films, accompanied by discussion of the movie industry and screen culture.

Film is a vital instrument in the teaching of any language, creating a wider contact with the host community, a deeper understanding of its traditions and practices, and a heightened alertness to the spoken word.

Conversation fizzes at meal times in our elegant but relaxed Victorian dining room, where every dinner is specially prepared from our varied repertoire of delicious international cuisine.

Fully modernized, Arundel has two guest bedrooms, one double and one single, each with its own bathroom, television and wifi.

Within a caring family environment you will enjoy complete privacy to continue your work, studies, skills, tourism or whatever brings you to us.

As part of Scenario's Cultural & Creative Residency we provide Guided Introductions to London, including visits to museums, art galleries, theatres and concert halls.

We offer advice on the best language schools, should this be your aim, or personal contacts to London's excellent art and music academies, and guidance on UK universities and boarding schools.

As writers, filmmakers and lecturers, Scenario's Joint Directors are well qualified to teach language learners:

Dr. Gareth Jones holds a Ph.D. in Modern Languages from the University of Cambridge. A published novelist and screenplay writer
he offers daily insight into the English language at an advanced conversational and written level.

Fiona Howe has a B.A. Hons in English Language and Literature from the University of Reading.
Besides her writing and film producing,
she is also a composer and can offer
music tuition and piano accompaniment.

Gareth and Fiona are known for their consultancy with creative artists of many different nations at the world's most important professional forums.
For the last fifteen years they have run Scenario's own programme BABYLON for international filmmakers (www.babylon-film.eu) giving lectures, workshops and one-to-one personal tuition adapted to the needs of each participant.
These are skills they bring to Scenario's Cultural and Creative Residency.

Film is a universal art involving many different talents. Gareth and Fiona are used to working with writers, designers, composers, musicians, editors and artists.

Whatever your creative pursuit, we can help you develop your craftsmanship and refine your concepts. We are known authorities at guiding and inspiring group discussion and encouraging individual voices in a seminar context.

In our Cultural and Creative Residency you will be bringing your world to ours and entering a new world both similar and startlingly different that reflects your own cultural passions and allows you to refresh your creative roots in a safe but challenging environment.

If you are a teacher or university lecturer considering a group visit to London, we can help you with your logistics as well as academic input.

Being a film production company Scenario is well acquainted with the importance of efficient scheduling and complex event management.

Human empathy is our métier. Your needs are ours.

World history, art tours, music recitals, theatrical evenings
Shakespeare readings... British culture awaits you!

Our rates are modest, compared for instance to language schools and hotels, and they reflect our commitment to the principles of hospitality for our fellow creatives.
